CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2013

This year was a turning point for Inclusive Technology. We have been able to re-shape the business to meet our customers' needs which are changing at an unprecedented rate. Tablets, like the iPad, are becoming the technology of choice in education and nowhere more so than in Special Needs settings where their accessibility, immediacy and "cool" are particularly welcome.

In July 2012 we began a subscription service called HelpKidzLearn. This has now attracted 5,000 paying subscribers (mostly Special Schools and Special Needs teachers) and is growing at more than 50% per annum. This growth is export led with 60% of online subscriptions coming from overseas. We have subscribers in 50 countries with more subscribers in the US than in the UK. In July 2013, just after these accounts, we launched a second online service for the benefit of those dealing with learners with severe and complex special needs. ChooseIt! Maker 3 is now growing with the same trajectory and global audience as HelpKidzLearn.

This is all satisfactory - but it is only a beginning. We have the makings of a global community of Special Schools and of those dealing with learners who face the greatest challenges. These schools and teachers will have more in common with each other than they have with the mainstream education systems of their own countries. In a world newly dominated with online communities we are only limited by our ambition.

Inclusive Technology have just won a Government SMART research grant to develop learning analytics for the profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD) sector. The switch to online resources enables a two way exchange of information on children's access to computer resources for the first time. This will potentially greatly improve children's journey through our computer based resources. It will also close the feedback loop and allow us to really improve what we offer.

In a final "post balance sheet event" Inclusive Technology has severed its link with RM plc. Our two companies worked together very enjoyably and successfully in winning many "Building Schools for the Future" bids worth many millions and developed hardware together like the Inclusive RM OneTouch. Our paths have now diverged - for the moment anyway - and we have re-purchased RM's 25% holding in our parent company Inclusive Group Ltd.

Inclusive Technology is now completely independent again and ready to provide the online, truly interactive, resources our very special market will soon demand.

This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors; and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the annual report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements. 1. Accounting policies

Basis of accounting
The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities (effective April 2008).

Turnover
Turnover comprises the value of sales and royalties excluding value added tax and trade discounts.

Research and development
Research and development expenditure is written off in the year in which it is incurred.

Amortisation
Amortisation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Intellectual Property	-	5 years straight line

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation
Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Leased property alterations	-	Over the period of the lease
Fixtures and fittings	-	5 years straight line
Motor vehicles	-	25% reducing balance
Computer and office equipment	-	3 - 5 years straight line

Stocks
Stocks are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Hire purchase and leased assets
Assets held under finance leases and hire purchase contracts are capitalised in the balance sheet at their fair value and depreciated over their expected useful lives. The interest element of leasing payments represents a constant proportion of the capital balance outstanding and is charged to the profit and loss account over the period of the lease.

All other leases are regarded as operating leases and the payments made under them are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Contributions to pension funds
The company operates a defined contribution pension scheme. The amount charged to the profit and loss account in respect of pension costs is the contributions payable in the year. Differences between contributions payable in the year and contributions actually paid are shown as either accruals or prepayments in the balance sheet.

Deferred taxation
Provision is made for deferred taxation using the full provision method to take account of timing differences between the incidence of income and expenditure for taxation and accounting purposes.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

Foreign currencies
Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Where exchange differences result from the translation of foreign currency borrowings raised to acquire foreign assets they are taken to reserves and offset against the differences arising from the translation of those assets. All other exchange differences are dealt with through the profit and loss account.

Financial instruments
Financial instruments are classified and accounted for, according to the substance of the contractual arrangement, as either financial assets, financial liabilities or equity instruments. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.

2. Turnover

The percentage of turnover attributable to the overseas markets was 15.3% (2012: 11.5%).
